

For the past 20 years, SPACE has brought innovative and exciting arts programming into our home on Congress Street and supported artists across the state of Maine and nationally. As we move into the decades ahead, it's important to set goals and intentions to sustain this special artistic platform. SPACE's 2022–2025+ Strategic Plan gives us direction and a rubric for decisions to guide us through unfamiliar terrain in a dynamically changing future.

SPACE'S PURPOSE AT 20:

We seek to empower and activate creatives to experiment, converse, and explore new futures.

This artist-centered approach is undertaken with audiences in mind, aiming to foster dynamic interconnected communities

SPACE'S MISSION AT 20:

SPACE is a nonprofit organization that supports contemporary arts projects, champions artists, and encourages an open exchange of ideas.

Grounded in the belief that vital communities are activated by experimentation, conversation, and camaraderie, SPACE connects audiences with dynamic cultural programming and multidisciplinary events.

Through a robust offering of programs, exhibitions, screenings, residencies, publishing, opportunities, and gatherings, SPACE serves as a nexus for independent and diverse audiences in Maine. We cultivate thoughtful collaboration, provide resources for original ideas, and model a more equitable artistic community.

SPACE'S GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- We are here to provide resources, time, energy, and a visible platform to realize original artistic visions.
- We delight in the fluidity and multidisciplinary nature of our programming. Working with artists, we cultivate joy, take risks, and amplify play.
- We strive for everyone to feel welcome and invited.
- We provide our staff and artists with an environment of dignity and respect.
- We work to create an environment and facilities that are anti-racist, equitable, safe, and fair.
- We create a platform for work that is experimental and sparks dialogue.
- We build foundations for all of our work with conversations around Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, Justice, and Activism.
- We are committed internally to a constant process of transformation and improvement.
